

	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday
C O M M A S	Put in commas where they belong. Some may have MORE than one. Truman Johnson and Nixon were all presidents during the Cold War.	As a result of the Korean War over 200000 people were wounded or died.	In 1987 President Ronald Reagan said to the Soviet leaders Tear down this wall.	At the age of 93 Ronald Reagan died on June 5 2004.
R E V I E W	Put in commas in this sentence. Then circle either complex or compound to indicate the type of sentence. Because he is nice John is my best friend.	Put in commas in this sentence. Then circle either complex or compound to indicate the type of sentence. Jenny has a son yet he lives in another state.	Put in commas in this sentence. Then circle either complex or compound to indicate the type of sentence. Rosa Parks helped the Civil Rights Movement for she would not give up her seat on the bus.	Put in commas in this sentence. Then circle either complex or compound to indicate the type of sentence. If we go to the mall I would like to get a big pretzel.
A D J E C T I V E S	Circle every adjective in these sentences. “Green apples are crispier than red apples,” said the young boy quietly.	“I like to read a good, suspenseful book on a rainy day!” exclaimed Mrs. Parker.	Although Dr. Martin Luther King promoted peaceful protesting, he had to endure hateful words and violent acts from others.	In her biography, Anne Frank explained how very afraid she was that the mean soldiers would find her frightened friends.
V O C A B U L A R Y	What is a synonym for cultivate?	Is this sentence simple, complex, or compound? The teacher gave us some candy for Christmas.	Is this sentence declarative, imperative, interrogative, or exclamatory? Could you ever kill a spider?	Which of these could a person NOT consume? a. paper b. pizza c. toothpaste d. dentist
P R O N O U N S	Pronouns take the place of nouns, usually to keep from repeating words in sentences. Fill in each blank with a pronoun that make sense. Carrie went jogging until _____ got tired. (Carrie)	When Jack and Spencer went fishing, _____ caught a lot! (Jack and Spencer)	The dog wagged _____ tail.	Jan and Kent washed _____ car.